

Recent Books

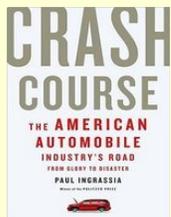

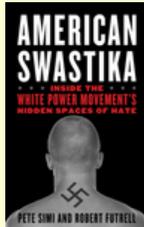

LB2822.83I3 E34 2009

"How to Walk to School: Blueprint for a Neighborhood School Renaissance" by Jacqueline Edelberg.

E184A1 S599 2010

"American Swastika: Inside the White Power Movement's Hidden Spaces of Hate" by Pete Simi.

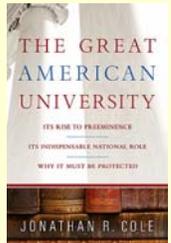

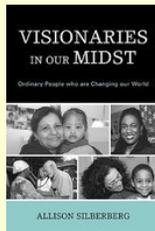

HD9710U52 I55 2010

"Crash Course: the American Automobile Industry's Road from Glory to Disaster" by Paul Ingrassia.

HM831S56 2009

"Visionaries in our Midst: Ordinary People who are Changing our World" by Allison Silverberg.

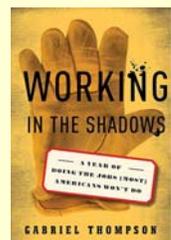

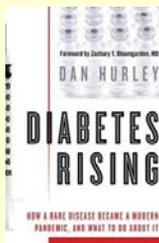

LA227.4C64 2009

"The Great American University: its Rise to Preeminence, its Indispensable Role, why it Must be Protected" by Jonathan Cole.

RA645D5 H87 2010

"Diabetes Rising: how a Rare Disease Became a Modern Pandemic, and what to do about it" by Dan Hurley.

HD6300T46 2010

"Working in the Shadows: a Year of Doing the Jobs (Most) Americans won't do" by Gabriel Thompson.

The desire of knowledge increases with the acquisition of it. ~Laurence Sterne

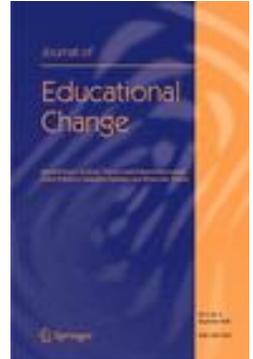

Online Journals Save Money

Does your agency subscribe to magazines/journals? In these times of ever-tightening budgets, the State Library can save your agency money by providing many of those publications online. Because they are in PDF format, the journals look exactly like paper publications and include all graphics. You can print any article that you want.

For instance, say that you are with an agency that subscribes to education journals. There are 244 education journals accessible through EBSCO's Education Research Complete database that are in PDF full-text, currently published and have no delays. Some of those titles are: Education; Educational Planning; Educational Leadership & Administration; Reading Teacher; and School Administrator.

So how do you get to these journals? The easiest way may be to contact the Reference staff of the State Library (614-644-7051 or refhelp@sloma.state.oh.us) and give us the title (s) that you want. We can quickly determine if your journal(s) are available to read online and tell you how to get easy free access. We can also show you what other readable journals on your subject are available.

Available online journals can also be e-mailed to you automatically every time a new issue is published. This is done by signing you up for our Current Awareness Table of Contents Service www.library.ohio.gov/research/cur_aware/toc. The Table of Contents will allow you to link to each article in the journal for reading and/or printing. Note that the list we provide is only a small example of the journals available – click on Other at the bottom of the list if you want titles that are not on the list, and we will contact you.

To access the online journals you will need to have a State Library of Ohio—State Employee library patron card. You can register for a card online at:

www.library.ohio.gov/PCS/statepatron

Your library patron card number will be emailed to you and then you will receive the card in the mail.

If you haven't used your card in a while it may have expired. For help renewing your card call us at 644-6950 or email circhelp@sloma.state.oh.us

If you wish to find your journal(s) on your own, you can do so by going to the database that has it (from EBSCO or in the Electronic Journal Center – we will help you to determine that). Each EBSCO database has a Publications link at the top of the screen that takes you to an alphabetical list of the journal it covers. Be sure to note whether the journal is in PDF full-text, is current, and has no delays in full-text content. The Electronic Journal Center, in which all journals are in full-text, has an alphabetical Journals by Title index.

At first, the process may seem complicated, but we are always willing to help you in any way needed. Help save your agency (or yourself) money – read magazines/journals on just about any topic online rather than in print.

February Book Lists

Click here to see lists of items that we have added to our collection. Or go to: www.library.ohio.gov/Marketing/Residents/RecentAdditionstoCollection

For more information about finding and reading online publications go to: www.library.ohio.gov/Marketing/StateEmps/Publications